Executive Team

John Calixto S. Cadano III

Chief Executive Officer (CEO) & Chief Investment Officer (CIO)

With over 3 years of expertise in financial markets, Calixto has demonstrated exceptional skill in analyzing market trends and making data-driven investment decisions. His leadership abilities have been honed through more than 5 years of experience organizing teams and driving strategic initiatives. Calixto, coming from the prestigious Philippine Science High School, brings a strong academic foundation as one of the top students of De La Salle University's School of Economics, where he pursues dual degrees in Economics and Business Management.

Saelac Antje B. Dy

Chief Operations Officer (COO) & Chief Financial Officer (CFO)

Saelac brings valuable early-career experience in financial management to his role, having started in high school when he provided accounting services for a printing business. His detail-oriented approach to problem-solving enables him to effectively manage financial records and deliver actionable insights that optimize strategic decision-making. He combines his practical experience with a strong theoretical foundation being developed at De La Salle University's School of Economics, where he studies in the Economics program.

Gabriel O. Naguiat

Chief Relations Officer (CRO)

Gabriel excels in strategic relationship management, consistently demonstrating his ability to organize impactful outreach programs and build valuable partnerships that enhance organizational influence. As an expert network builder, he has gained recognition for his talent in creating meaningful collaborations and fostering lasting professional connections across various sectors. His strategic vision is complemented by his academic pursuits, also at De La Salle University's School of Economics Double Degree Program, where he continues to refine his understanding of economic principles and business relationships.

About Excelon Partners

Excelon Partners is a fund management partnership that employs a comprehensive analytical framework to generate higher than benchmark returns without the hassle of due diligence for our investors. We pride ourselves in our high historical returns.

We started in De La Salle University's Animo Labs startup incubator, when three friends from the School of Economics had a dream. Now, we are a team of 17, and our members' diverse group of skills are the reason behind this fund's exemplary performance since its inception.
